Planners to quiz residents

Residents of Antioch will be receiving a questionnaire early in January from the Village Planning Commission. The 30-question survey will attempt to find out working and commuting facts about local residents and their attitudes toward their hometown.

The professional planning firm of Harland, Bartholomew and Associates prepared the questionnaire as part of their work in helping the Planning Commission to develop a Comprehensive Plan for the Village. Commission members examined the proposed questionnaire Thursday evening, making only slight revisions for clarity or to bring out points not otherwise covered.

In a letter that will accompany the surveys, Major Robert Wilton explains the importance of soliciting the views of residents. "In order for the Comprehensive Plan to reflect the opinions, needs and interests of the people of Antioch, the Village is conducting a Resident Attitude Survey," he states.

The greater part of the discussion at the Planning Commission meeting centered on how to accomplish the mailing and return of about 1,000 questionnaires at the least cost to the Village. It was finally decided to turn the entire printing and mailing job over to A & B Printers, who will be able to use their bulk mailing permit. By sending the questionnaires out January 4, the Village will avoid higher postal rates which may go into effect two days later. Return postage will be paid by the Village only for those surveys that are actually sent back.

Residents are being asked to return the completed questionnaires before January 18, 1974.

Bruce Christensen, representative of the Harland - Bartholomew firm, emphasized to the Commission that the survey is not an attempt at "planning a democracy." A majority vote will not determine what goes into the Comprehensive Plan, according to the planner, but it gives a good indication of people's attitudes. If 90 percent of the people say they do not want the town to grow any larger, it gives a planner a good idea of what to strive for, Christensen indicated.

Antioch gets added federal funds for sewage plant

The Village of Antioch has been awarded $97,275 of additional federal funds to cover 75 percent of the costs of the sewage treatment plant expansion above the engineers original estimate.

In July a federal grant of $374,625 for the project - which will double the capacity of the plant - was announced, being 75 percent of the engineer's estimated total project cost of $499,500. However, when construction bids were opened a month later, the lowest was for $578,352. When technical, legal, fiscal and administrative fees and contingency costs are added to this figure, the total project cost swells to $629,253.

As this higher cost became evident, Village officials determined to apply for a revised grant. The additional funds announced at this time, bring Antioch's total federal grant to $471,900

Congressman Robert McClory notified Village officials and the ANTIOCH NEWS of the larger federal grant in phone calls Wednesday, December 19.

Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz stated Thursday that the local share of the project will be financed through revenue bonds, which have already been authorized by the Village Board. These bonds will be paid back with fees from the sewer and water department, without any increase in these rates or any other taxes. Mrs. Sterbenz also mentioned that Antioch's sewer and water rates are still among the lowest in Lake County

A total of $350,000 in revenue bonds will be issued, according to the Clerk. The money which is left after the local share of the treatment plant expansion is provided for, along with existing funds, will pay for a new well, a new water tower, and the upgrading of sewer lines east of Main Street, Mrs. Sterbenz said.

EDITORIAL ANTIOCH 1974

With the waning of another year, it is customary to assess the progress that has been made and to make resolutions for the year to come. It is in this spirit that we offer the following suggestions of things we would like to see happen in Antioch in 1974. Our "resolution" can be stated as "a commitment to work, in whatever ways a newspaper can, for the accomplishment of the following goals:"

SHOPPING AREA DEVELOPMENT

In 1974, we would like to see three things happen with respect to the shopping areas of Antioch.

Antioch needs a good Sign Ordinance, leading eventually to the elimination of unsightly overhanging signs. Such a suggestion has been kicked around for several years, and we may actually be on the verge of receiving a concrete proposal from the professional planning firm. This should be followed by action on the part of the Chamber of Commerce and the Village Board. The recent turning off of signs to save energy has shown how attractive Main Street (and other areas as well) can look without several dozen flashing signs competing for attention.

The beautification of the total shopping area should be undertaken. This could begin with simple planters filled with flowers, shrubs and small trees. Any large-scale tree planting should properly wait until conflicting signs have been removed and the parking spaces that would be eliminated by tree plantings can be replaced somehow. While these two problems may be expected to take as long as three years to be solved, the initial steps of beautification with planters should begin immediately.

The development of the area east of Main Street has been a topic of conversation in Antioch for 50 years or more. We would like to see a major effort made in 1974 to obtain commitments for the development of this area. The chief problem, as we understand, is the complex land ownership. This obstacle could be overcome if sufficient resources can be lined up behind such a development. New commercial development will come to Antioch. It is to the benefit of the Village as a whole to have this development concentrated near -- and contributing to -- the existing business district, rather than in outlying areas.

PARKS

The formation of a Citizens Committee on Parks and the purchase of three acres in Sequoit Terrace during the past year were major steps forward. We advocate now the creation of a Park District to serve all of Antioch Township. The need for more park areas and better recreational facilities within the Village is pressing. However, the problem is not confined to the incorporated area. People living outside of Antioch proper need recreational facilities, too. Large open spaces -- which exist mainly outside the Village limits -- must be set aside for public use before they are all taken for private development. A legally established Park District could undertake a coordinated program to set aside and equip recreational facilities for area residents before it is too late.

INDUSTRIAL GROWTH

Part of the reason for Antioch's sound growth in past years has been the establishment of a firm industrial base in the community. Industry provides not only jobs for local residents, but a tax base which helps to finance schools, streets and other public facilities. The effort to attract new industry to Antioch and to encourage the expansion of those firms already established here, must continue.

R.T.A.

Like it or not, Antioch is part of the Chicago metropolitan area. As such, even though we live on the fringe, we are involved in the problems of the total area. One of those problems is transportation, and one of the solutions is mass transit. We will be publishing, in the coming months, a series of articles examining this issue, with the intent of aiding local voters in making an informed decision before voting in the R.T.A. referendum on March 19. While we have not yet thoroughly examined the R.T.A. bill passed by the State legislature and signed by Gov. Walker, whether we end up supporting or opposing this particular R.T.A. package, we believe that a workable regional transit program must be developed in the near future.

GROWTH - ANNEXATION

Every informed person we talk to says the same thing, "Antioch is going to experience tremendous growth in the next few years." There's no denying it; planned developments within the existing Village limits or immediately adjoining the Village -- if carried through as proposed -- will approximately double the present population of the Village. The potential for growth in areas further out from the Village is tremendous. It is going to happen; there is little we can do to prevent it. The only reasonable approach is to make sure that Antioch can control what development takes place. The enactment of a tentative Comprehensive Plan for the mile-and-a-half area around the Village will give the Board legal authority over development within that area. Annexation of planned developments immediately adjoining the Village will allow us to control them and benefit from them directly and will further extend our mile-and-a-half sphere of jurisdiction.

These, then, are some of the major ideas we will be promoting in the coming year. We recognize that they are concerned mainly with physical development; however, we feel that this is the major problem facing Antioch at this time.

It is always our hope that people will continue to develop themselves -- physically, mentally, socially, spiritually -- and will continue to deal with each other in the open, friendly, concerned, "small-town" spirit that has characterized Antioch in the past.

Wishing you all the best for 1974.

HOLIDAY PARK ADDS FACILITIES

Holiday Park, Wooster Lake, Ingleside, already one of the largest recreational complexes in Lake County, is expanding again (still) this year.

Ultimately, the added space in the main building will house a larger restaurant and bar, banquet and meeting rooms, ski shop and other facilities. For the current winter season though, part of the basic structure which is completed will be closed in with plastic, heated, and used for a skiers rest area. About 5,000 sq. ft. of space is available, about four or five times more than in previous years.

With a total of about four feet of snow on the slopes, Holiday Park is open from 11 to 11 daily. During the holiday season, these hours are extended so that the park is open from 9 to 11.

The ski area boasts hills for all levels of skiers, from beginners to racers, along with four rope tows and a chair lift. For beginners there is a certified ski school which features the Graduated Length Method (GLM) of instruction. In this approach, students start out on short skis, which are easier to handle, and progress to longer ones. Although a beginning skier can be coming down the slopes on the first day, it is suggested that three or four lessons be taken.

During the ski season, the restaurant at Holiday Park is open seven days a week. The seafood buffet set out every Friday night is reported to be second to none in the area, featuring lobster, several varieties of shrimp, stuffed trout, crab, and many types of fish. Each Saturday night, the restaurant prepares an ethnic buffet, with a different nationality represented each week. A home-style family buffet is offered every Sunday.

HOLIDAY PARK. During the building program at Holiday Park, the ski slopes are still open for business. About 5,000 sq. ft. of the new structure is enclosed now and used as heated rest area for skiers. Eventually, 43,000 sq. ft. will house expanded eating and meeting facilities as well as a ski shop. ### 1974 FLOWER SHOW FLINGS DOWN GAUNTLET TO WINTER

Take home a bunch of spring is the festive challenge to winter that will be issued by the 1974 Chicago Flower and Garden Show to be held at McCormick Place March 23 - 31.

The 1974 Show sponsored by the Chicago Horticultural Society will combine flowers, fountains, lights and color in a kaleidoscope of gardening which will help drive out the grey of winter.

There will be colorful gardens (rose, orchid, tropical and idea), special features and perennial favorites such as the exhibits by the Garden Club of America, the Garden Club of Illinois and many other amateur and professional groups.

Demonstration gardens will include a complete how-to-do-it vegetable garden - and for the apartment dweller, exhibits in house plants, indoor lighting and highrise horticulture.

A spectacular festival of lights will be presented every night on-the-hour where the hall will be dimmed and the special garden and fountain lighting will transform the gardens and promenade into a wonderland of beauty and enchantment.

Picnic Woods, a beautifully designed area for show visitors who want to bring their own can eat their first picnic of the year (without mosquitoes) in a rustic forest preserve setting.

For those who like to dine in a more formal setting, International Cafe will provide a buffet of specialties from different lands.

Appealing shopping areas, departmentalized for easy shopping, located beyond the gardens and features, will provide ideas for home and garden improvement.

To meet the demands for plants and cut flowers there will be a Garden Market and a Flower Market which will have carefully labelled materials available for sale to show visitors. New this year, in cooperation with Chicago wholesale flower dealers, a beautiful bouquet, a show special, will make it possible for visitors to "Take Home a Bunch of Spring" in their hands as well as in their hearts.

frustrated woman in a hurry, was well bogged down in the fresh snow. Nicely dressed and with no gloves or boots he gallantly got sand from his car and used his muscles and finally got her out.

If he will stop in at the Antioch News office when we open on January 3, we would like to say thank you properly.

I left the parking lot feeling a bit more of the Christmas spirit in the air.

Here we go again with all the broken bones, poor Mike Costoff broke his wrist - just in time for the skiing season and I hear that Florence Spong is on crutches this holiday. Its nice that your family is all here to help you celebrate.

Joyce Woods was a surprised lady last Friday evening - a well planned Christmas party turned into a surprise birthday party. Her special day isn't until January 1 but she would have guessed had we waited. Many happys to a lovely lady.

Its nice to see so many of the college kids home again for the holiday season. Hear tell Kim Skapich just returned from a three week trip to Russia where she had the opportunity to visit Moscow, Leningrad, Kiev and several other cities.

If anyone is out of snow - Mr. Einar Peterson in Sequoit Terrace has lots for sale - really cheap - only 10 cents a bushel. I'm afraid he hasn't had too many customers.

Belated birthday wishes to Jerry VanderMeer on December 19th and to Karen White who celebrated on the 21st. A very happy birthday to Louise Gutowski who celebrates on December 26th, to Hannah Vistain on the 27th, to Tim O'Neill and Jerri Gutowski on the 28th, to Bernie DeVries on the 29th, to Ellen Flint, Rosemary Hevrdjs, and Frank Benes on the 30th and to Roger Drije who finishes out the year on the 31st.

WALSH OUTLINES CHAMBER GOALS

"I like to sit down and look at all sides of a problem before suggesting a course of action," says Don Walsh, the new President of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry. Such a course, Walsh says, overcomes the tendency to panic when a problem arises, and generally leads to a successful resolution of the situation at hand.

Walsh, owner of the Walsh's All-Seasons Sportswear and Sporting Goods stores in Antioch, Palatine and Kenosha, will be installed as President of the local business organization at a dinner-dance, January 19, at Lorenz's.

Other new officers are: First Vice-president Dick Kirkpatrick of Charming, Second Vice-president Preston Reckers of the State Bank of Antioch, and Secretary-Treasurer Dick Ford of Antioch Carpet.

In an exclusive interview with the ANTIOCH NEWS, Walsh - who, at 26, is the youngest Chamber President than anyone can recall - said that there are "four big things" that he will concern himself with during his year in office.

"We have to do something with a sign ordinance," he said. Such a law has been kicked around for many years, and Walsh said that he thinks it is about time something is actually done about it. When told that the professional planner hired by the Village Board had promised a draft of a sign ordinance for the next Planning Commission meeting, January 3, Walsh expressed pleasure.

Another subject of concern for Walsh is the beautification of the total shopping area. Referring to the proposal for a tree planting program in the downtown and shopping plaza, he said that most of the information has already been gathered. What is needed now, he added, is some kind of financial plan to show the businessmen what it would cost to carry out the planting.

"We need to show some positive benefit that would result from beautification of the shopping areas," Walsh stated. He added that if merchants can be shown some advantages of beautification, then there should be little problem gaining financial support for the program.

"Employee parking" is another problem cited by the new President for priority action. Some equitable system must be worked out, he said, so that those who work in the business district can park their cars all day without taking the most desirable spaces away from those who come to shop. Walsh said that he is not sure just what form the solution to this problem would take; though he added that he does not see much real chance for a parking area east of Main Street without some major development in that area first. People would not be likely to park there and walk all the way back to shop on the west side of Main, he pointed out.

The fourth major concern that Walsh singled out for his attention in the coming year is to try to build cooperation between the downtown businessmen and those from outlying areas. It is not unusual, according to the new Chamber President for each particular shopping area in the Village to be concerned with its own problems. The problem with this, he stated, is that it sometimes results in a sort of "crisis reaction" when a problem arises. "There is a need for working together, seeking a solution to problems that works to the benefit of all," he said.

Walsh pointed to the Teresi building on the north end of Main Street downtown as an example of a good outcome resulting from sitting down and assessing all sides of a problem. Some people, he said, reacted to the request to allow light industrial assembly work in the vacated building with an outright, "No." Others advocated letting the firm occupy the entire building. Neither course, Walsh said, would have been as desirable as the situation that was worked out.

The blending of both assembly work in the back of the building, and the industrial display window at the front is a solution which, Walsh said, is to the benefit of all concerned.

Looking ahead over the next five years, Walsh singled out "Growth" as the most significant factor facing Antioch.

"Antioch will not be able to stay the same as it was 10 years ago," he said. "We just have to face the future." In doing this, he advised that the community leaders will have to make decisions as situations develop.

"To make NO decision would be a mistake," Walsh counseled. "There is a great danger of trying to avoid the making of decisions, which can only bring a backing off from progress that has been made."

"No town in the area has a really good, centralized business district such as we have," he continued, "No town in the area can offer what Antioch can."

To a great extent, Walsh said, the local banks must be given credit for this growth, because they "have taken a stand," they have "Let the community grow," and have "re-invested their money in the town."

"If we lose what we've built up," the new Chamber President said, "it's going to hurt everybody."

DELIGHTFUL CHRISTMAS PLAY AT GRASS LAKE SCHOOL

On Thursday, December 20th, the 5-8 grades of the Grass Lake School presented the annual Christmas play for the public: "A Gift for Santa", which featured LuAnn Wilson, Criag Jorgenson, Jenny Beese, Kathy Anderson, Wally Anderson and Dan Lloyd. As little Amy falls asleep on Christmas Eve she leaves a gift for Santa and in return Santa gives Amy the gift of a "real dream" of his Musicians, Toy Soldiers, Dolls, Teddy Bears, and of course his Christmas trees. The play featured a number of dance routines that were under the direction of Miss Pam Friederick. Mrs. MaryEllen Gardino and Mrs. Judy Peters directed the students in the program and provided all the set decorations and props. Miss Linda Bullard supervised the programs and publicity for this event. The school's chorus under the direction of Mrs. Ruth McKenzie provided a fine holiday touch in singing a number of carols during the performance. Miss Nannette Borzewski, the school's music teacher, organized this annual performance, and delighted a capacity crowd of parents who were in attendance.

COMET KOHOUTEK SIGHTING DATA FOR THE CHICAGO AREA

When Comet Kohoutek was discovered on March 7, 1973, by Dr. Lubos Kohoutek, it was about as far from the sun as Jupiter's orbit, approximately 441,750,000 miles. Comet Kohoutek will reach perihelion, its closest point to the sun, on Friday, Dec. 28, when it will be only 12 million miles away, according to James Seevers, assistant astronomer at the Chicago Park District's Adler Planetarium.

Public interest in Comet Kohoutek is so great that the Adler Planetarium now offers a taped telephone message with timely information on Comet Kohoutek. The number to call is 294-4646.

In general Comet Kohoutek may be seen before sunrise in the southeastern sky before Dec. 28. After Jan. 1, 1974, Comet Kohoutek will be visible in the southwest sky after sunset.

WARNING: From Dec. 24 until Dec. 31, the comet will be so close to the sun that inexperienced observers should not attempt to view it because of possible damage to the eyes.

December 23-24: M1-1.9 Tail about 6 Deg. Sunrise 7:17 CT-6:10 AT-5:36
8:17 Alt-12.3° Az-141.5° (day)

January 2-3: Should be a magnificent object in southeast with tail extended up from horizon. Tail about 13 degrees. M1-1.7

Sunset 16:31 CT-17:37 AT-18:11
16:19 Alt-14.6° Az-229.3°

January 7-8: Jupiter, Venus nearby in southwest, gibbous moon. Comet tail dims with each passing day. Jan. 10-20 is best for photography as comet appears higher above the horizon after twilight and moon is waning. Sunset 16:35 CT-17:42 AT-18:15
16:19 Alt-23.4° Az-223.1° (day)
17:19 Alt-14.9° Az-235.7°

January 12-13: Comet very impressive in west-southwest sky. Tail about 21 degrees. M1-1.2. Sunset 16:41 CT-17:46 AT-18:20

16:18 Alt-32.2° Az-215.9°
17:18 Alt-24.5° Az-230.4°
18:18 Alt-15.2° Az-242.7°

After January 15 the Comet tail shortens; last visible in February.

Times are given in Central Standard Time on a 24 hour clock basis. Civil twilight (CT) is the time at which the center of the sun's disk is 6 degrees below the horizon; astronomical twilight (AT) when the center of the sun is 18 degrees below the horizon and evening twilight ceases (or morning twilight begins). Compiled by The Adler Planetarium 11-12-73 from information from NASA, IAU Telegrams, and Dr. John Bahng, Northwestern University. M1 is what astronomers call the visual magnitude of an object. Altitude (Alt.) is measured in degrees from 0° on the horizon to 90° directly overhead. Azimuth (Az.) is measured on the horizon beginning at 0° north rotating 360° eastwards, i.e. east = 90°, south = 180°, and west = 270°.

On December 11, 1973, the comet had a 3° tail and a magnitude between +3.3 and +4.4 as reported by the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory.

GRACE MARY STERN ANNOUNCES

JULY 29th AS PETITION FILING DATE

Grace Mary Stern, Lake County Clerk, announced today that petition filing dates for Independent and New Party candidates to the County Board will be July 29th to August 5th, 1974.

Because of the recent consolidation of the County Board elections with the regularly scheduled county, state and national office elections, this date accordingly moves up on the calendar from its original position which was the week starting December 26th, 1973.

"We have a number of questions still unanswered as a result of the consolidation. We have pressed the Attorney General to give us specific answers to specific problems, and so far we have had no response. The time is getting close however and we feel the candidates are entitled to some guidelines."

Mrs. Stern went on to indicate that although the County Building is closed on Saturdays now, due to the energy crisis, the last day for withdrawal or for filing a challenge to any of the petitions filed between December 10th and 17th will be Saturday, December 22nd at noon. "No other business of the office will be conducted on that day, but Terry Link will be here to accept any withdrawals or challenges up until twelve."

TRAVELING WITH TAFFY

INDONESIA

Jakarta's People: Out of Sight, Out of Mind ? ? ?

"To an unsuspecting visitor driving in the airport through Jakarta's inner city — one of Asia's new ghetto's of affluence — the Indonesian capital it may seem prosperous, even booming. So successful has General Sadikin been in pushing the poor out of sight and out of mind, there is little in the central city to suggest that 90 percent of Jakarta's family heads earn less than $25 a week, nor that a full 35 percent earn less than $5 a week." (Quoted from the Christmas Science Monitor, Sept. 12 1973)

Like Sadikin, many would prefer not to see poverty. It's much more pleasant to push it aside. But if you just walk through Jakarta, which is the richest city in Indonesia, the poor living conditions seem to be screaming out at you. It seems inevitable to face them, and there is no advantage in trying to ignore or escape this situation that is so very real.

In Jakarta, as in many cities around the world, there has been a terrific migration of peasants into the city. Poor conditions in the countryside have driven great numbers off the land and into the already overcrowded city where the lack of industrial employment only frustrates their hopes for a decent life even more.

Severe measures have been ment for as many as 30 to 40 percent of the city's 4.5 million poor.

To the people, these bannings simply are symbols that the government doesn't care. Their resentment grows along with their fears.

Indonesia is not unique. How to combine rapid economic growth, relatively open government and equitable distribution of income has been a problem in developing cities and nations all along.

Perhaps nowhere is the urgency of finding an answer more evident than in the slums of Jakarta.

I was very disappointed to see many of my fellow students staying on board ship throughout most of our stay in Indonesia. They felt that there was absolutely nothing to see. In my opinion, these students missed out on quite a bit.

What I experienced in Jakarta was real, and in some aspects there was much more to see than in any other country we've visited so far. Big cities, night clubs, and tourist traps can be found anywhere. In Jakarta, we could actually live with the Indonesians for a short amount of time. I found it inspiring to see such beautiful woodcar-vings, artpieces, and dances come from people who are living in filth, have nowhere to sleep and just barely making it from one day to the next. No, I didn't like the smell, or the rats. But these village people were extremely friendly and responsive and we could easily relate through touch and sign language. I've never seen a child so happy and appreciative over a single piece of candy in my entire life.

I'm tired of being known as a "rich, ugly, greedy, superior, tourist, American." And that is exactly what we are known as in many, many countries.

Looking back on the impressions of a few of the insensitive people, it is not in the least bit difficult to understand why we have been stereotyped as such.

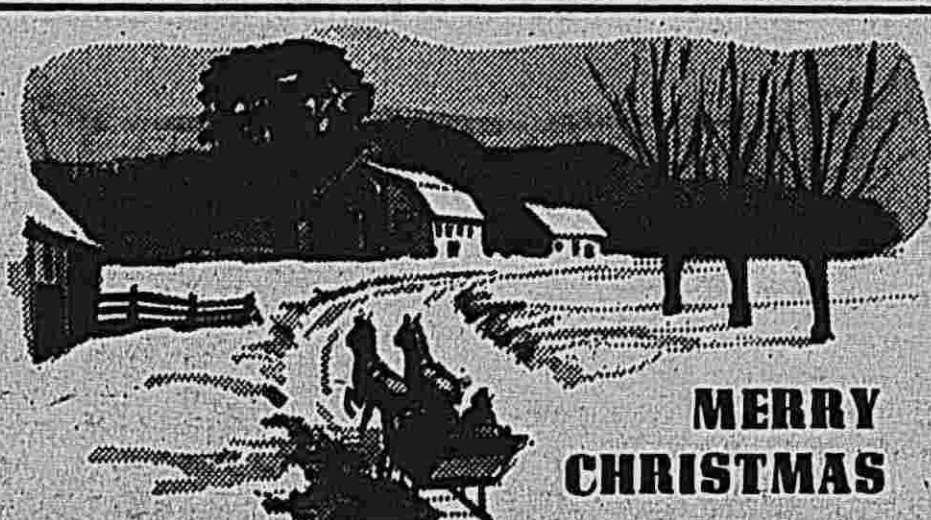

Our goal is to ruin that stereotype. We need to come down from our pedestals and be ready to accept different cultures and relate to them in a human way. After all, we ARE all people, and there couldn't be a stronger, common bondage.

to all our friends, old and new!

"Hindsight's Better Than Foresight"

By Father Keusal

The season of Christmas is a time to consider the love of God and we cannot do that without considering the forgiveness of God. The forgiveness of God brings the love of God into full blossom.

We forget that the forgiveness of God and the forgiveness of man are not the same.

TOLL FREE TAX HELP NUMBER FOR IRS TAX ASSISTANCE

Anywhere in Illinois you can call for free tax help from the Internal Revenue Service. You can use the IRS toll-free number printed in your tax form package to get fast, accurate tax information. A trained staff of tax experts is on duty to answer your questions.

The Christian is to practice the forgiveness of God. The forgiveness of man is conditioned. The offender is forgiven, if he apologizes. The forgiveness of man is qualified. The offender is forgiven if he promises never to offend again. We try to figure out how forgiveness will be most effective before we forgive.

The forgiveness of God is not qualified, is not conditioned. He didn't wait until man apologized before He sent his Son to take on a human nature. God moved beyond the hurt and concentrated on renewing the relationship of love that He had established with man. His forgiveness was not conditioned on man's apology. The forgiveness of God was not qualified as to how it could be most effective. God took the risk of being offended again and opened the relationship with man before man ever apologized.

This is the forgiveness that the Christian attempts to practice in his life. His forgiveness imitates his God's - unconditioned and unqualified.

With A "Stern Eye"

I had a bag of groceries in each arm, and was stamping the snow off my boots when the phone began to ring—angrily, insistently. With the receiver, I pushed the cap off one ear and answered.

"I tried to get you at the office all morning, Mrs. Stern," said the familiar peevish voice of the crabby lady from Lake Avenue. "Where were you?"

"Let me see—today I was at Mundelein High School, talking to students about county government." I balanced the bags on the counter and with my free hand, unbuttoned my coat. "I do that kind of thing a lot."

"Who would have guessed you were such an authority. Wouldn't it be better if you stayed in the County Clerk's office and attended to the matters we taxpayers pay you for?" I kicked off one boot and was working on the other when she added: "High School students don't pay taxes, you know."

"I figure that's part of my job, Mrs. T. and I'm rather partial to students." It was nearly six o'clock and if this call ran true to form our dinner would remain frozen in the bag. "Was there something in particular you wanted?"

"Certainly. You don't think I just wanted to chat? I want to know what is going to happen on this Mike Graham petition thing. I can't understand the newspaper account and I assume that if I get it from the horse's mouth so to speak—" She emitted an uncharacteristic chuckle.

"Mmmmm. I'll tell you what I can of course, but I'm not sure where it goes from here. You know that the Electoral Board decision was overturned on Judicial Review by Judge Van Deusen last week and—"

"Aha! You and your pals were wrong then. Maybe you should bone up—"

"They aren't exactly 'my pals,' as you put it. And as it happens, I dissented on a couple of the important points. When it comes to Law, a lot depends on how you interpret the wording in the statutes and cases that have gone before—stuff like that. Right and wrong are not so simple. It's more—"

"I don't need to stand here missing my dinner to listen to your political double talk, Mrs. Stern. What happens with the petition now? Does he get on the ballot or doesn't he?"

"I have been order to place his name on the Primary Ballot." I shifted from one hock to the other. "There are rumors around the County Building however, that the decision will be appealed, but I haven't heard anything official."

"You probably know more than you're letting on. If you're a member of that Electoral Board I don't see how they can appeal it without your knowing. Who'd do the appealing anyway? The Electoral Board or the challengers?"

"I can't see any way that the Board could appeal it. We were the judges after all, and the judge doesn't appeal. Anyway no one has spoken to me about it."

"That's government for you—the left hand never knows what the right hand is doing!"

After I thought about it, I decided she was probably right and didn't answer.

"What do you talk to them about anyway?" she said, softening a little.

"What do I talk to who about?"

"Those hippies at the high schools."

"Oh. Well it all depends on the grade level. I have this onion speech see, where I tell them how government is like an onion—with the national government on the outside—the largest—and township government nestled there—in the center."

"I rarely agree with you—but you're right about the onion comparison: government stinks also!"

"Come on now, it's Christmas, Mrs. T. Give me a break." The floor around my stockinged feet was wet from melting snow. "I also talk sometimes about Ethics in Government. I think it's very important for kids to—"

"Ethics!" That's a hot one!"

"Yes I think so too—this year especially. It's so important for those of us who believe in the system, those of us who know that all politicians aren't crooks, to explain what we are seeing in our daily papers. I believe—"

But it was too late. The laughter on the other end had grown to almost hysterical proportions. "Ethics in government!" she gasped. And a moment later there was only the hum of the dial tone....

ILL. ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY PROPOSES NEW REGULATIONS FOR DRINKING WATER

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency is proposing new regulations to safeguard drinking water by requiring all public water supplies in the state to chlorinate their water.

Jeff Diver, acting director of the Illinois EPA, noted in announcing the proposal that chlorination can help protect the public health by controlling the many organisms that can be present in drinking water.

"Chlorination of drinking water can help to control the source of such water-borne diseases as typhoid, cholera and polio," Diver said. "Although we have not had a serious outbreak of such diseases in Illinois since 1939, we must take every precaution," he added.

Of the 1,600 public water supplies in Illinois, some 930 already chlorinate their water, leaving about 670 water supplies that would be affected by the proposed regulations.

Currently, chlorination is required only for surface water supplies or for other supplies that have a history of possible contamination, according to Diver.

"The proposal for new regulations to protect drinking water is a general updating of regulations which have been in effect since 1966," Diver added.

The proposed regulations also specify the amounts of many chemicals such as arsenic, copper, cyanide, mercury and zinc that would be allowable in water treated and distributed by a public water supply.

Public hearings must be held on the proposed regulations by the Illinois Pollution Control Board. After the public hearings, the Pollution Control Board has the authority to modify the proposed regulations or to enact regulations as currently written.

Anyone may testify at the public hearings. Copies of the proposed regulations are available from the Illinois EPA's Division of Public Water Supplies, 220 Churchill Rd., Springfield, Ill. 62706.

Locations and dates of the hearings are:

— Springfield, 10 a.m., Dec. 18, Room D1, State Office Building, 401 S. Spring St.

— Chicago, 10 a.m., Jan. 8 NS 9, Chicago Circle Center Building, University of Illinois Circle Campus.

Bits from Barb

By: Barb Olson

During the last week of school at ACHS, the teachers tried to get the students to accomplish something, but it was difficult for them to do. Friday was the day the students were most excited. Knowing that they only had a few hours of school left and then came Christmas vacation was hard to take calmly.

Thursday, after school, try-outs were held for basketball. Congratulations to the girls who made the team. Their first game will be held on Tuesday, January 15, at 4:30 p.m. The game will be held at Antioch, against Grant.

Carnation Day was Friday

and many students were seen carrying their carnations to and from their classes. Debby Payne received 36 carnations, the largest quantity received that day. The Pep Club sponsored the activity.

Christmas Formal was held Saturday evening under the theme of Mistletoe Minuet. The seniors did a very good job on decorations, streamers covered the ceiling with mistletoe hanging from snowflakes. The band was also good, this was a relief to some people, because of the failure of last year's band to show up. Coronation was at ten o'clock. Congratulations to this year's new King and Queen, Bill Beese and Sandy Lyndberg. King Bill and Queen Sandy had a little difficulty during the court's dance, because Bill's crown kept falling off. Congratulations also to this year's Christmas Formal Court: Mary Barr, Rose Ring, Doris Meuter, and Sue Walsh were the Queen's attendants. Bill Bocox, Tom Robinson, Mike Beasely, and Bob Bailey were the escorts.

Attendance wasn't as large as it has been in past years, but everybody still had a very nice evening.

Now that Christmas is over, everybody should be looking forward to New Year's Eve.

ASSOCIATE JUDGE WARREN FOX SEEKS ELECTION

Associate Judge, Warren G. Fox, announced today that he has filed the necessary petitions to have his name placed upon the Republican Primary Ballot for Resident Circuit Judge of Lake County.

Judge Fox was elected to the post of Associate Judge in January of 1971 by vote of the ten full Circuit Judges of Lake & McHenry Counties.

While on the bench in Traffic Court, Judge Fox also served as a member of the Lake County Safety Commission. In this capacity he was instrumental in establishing the current, highly successful, Defensive Driving Program under the auspices of the Safety Commission.

Judge Fox, however, is best known for his efforts as a member of the Family Law Committee of the Lake County Bar Association. Here, he has been working for the adoption of procedures whereby the Court System, itself, would provide the follow-up to assure enforcement of all court orders for child support.

Judge Fox, age 50, resides in Lake Bluff. He is a Navy veteran and a graduate of Lake Forest College and John Marshall Law School.

Grayslake campus. Topics to be covered include types of family structure, functions of individual family members, effects of society on the family, and internal factors affecting the family.

According to program coordinator Linda Wetherbe, a new wrinkle - the "marriage game" - has been added to assist students in gaining understanding of the decision-making process within marriage.

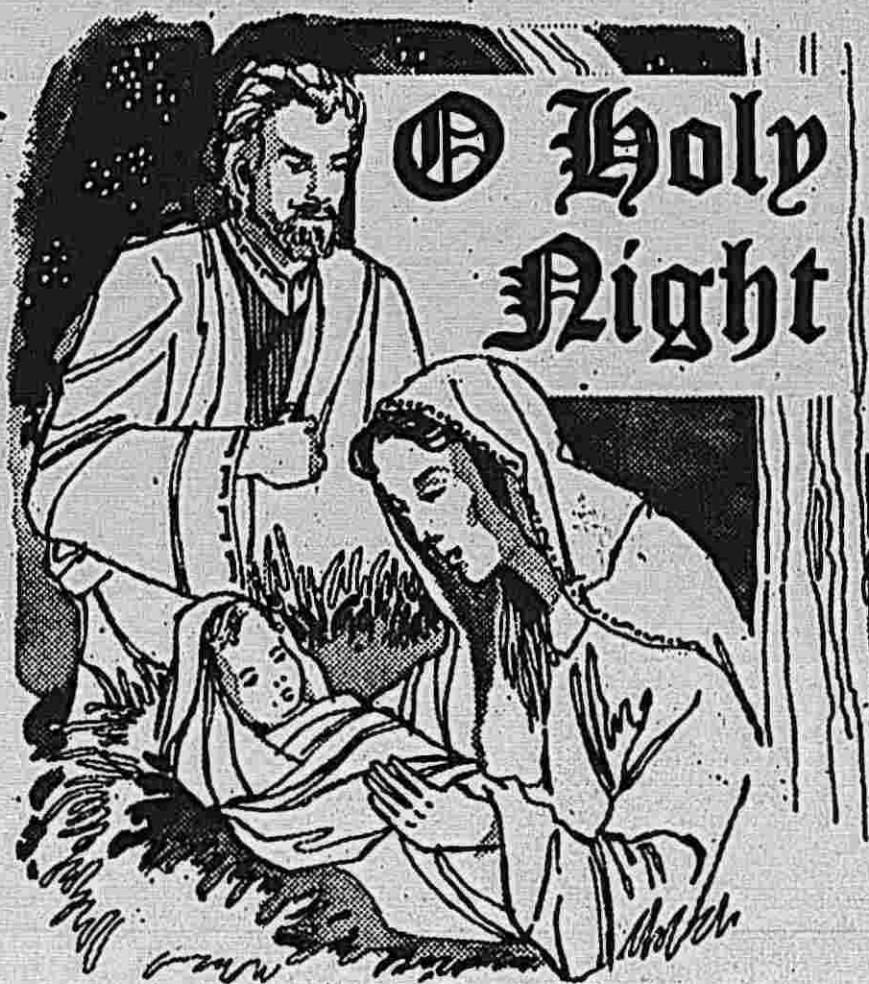

"Child Health and Nutrition," the second course to receive special attention, will be given at Waukegan High School, West Campus, each Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m.

The class will cover three specific areas. First, basic needs for children from "The course should be helpful to anyone working with children, especially day care staffs, institutional staffs, and public school food service personnel," Mrs. Wetherbe stated.

Interested persons may register for either course during the college's registration period, January 7-9, on the Grayslake campus. For further information, Mrs. Wetherbe should be called at 223-6601, extension 88.

AUTO DIVIDEND DECLARED BY ILLINOIS' THIRD LARGEST AUTO INSURER

Nearly $2 million are being returned to 328,097 automobile policyholders in Illinois by Country Mutual Insurance Company, the state's third largest auto insurer.

Country Mutual's board of directors this week declared 10 percent dividends in three major lines of insurance—farmowners, farm fire and automobile—totaling over $3 million.

Country Mutual is one of the Country Companies which also includes Country Life, Country Casualty and Mid-America Fire and Marine Insurance Companies. The Country Companies are affiliates of the Illinois Agricultural Association (statewide Farm Bureau).

The automobile dividend is based on premium in force for the six months period June 1-November 30, 1973. The dividend includes all policies covering private passenger vehicles and trucks, but not trucks used in business enterprises to which commercial rates apply.

A total of 55,910 farmowners and farm fire policyholders will receive dividends. The farmowners dividend, based on premium earned in 1973, will total $907,934. Farm fire dividends, also based on calendar 1973, will total

Policyholders will receive their dividend checks in March. If a policyholder has more than one vehicle insured, he will receive separate checks for each as well as separate checks for farmowners and farm fire policies.

Except for the eight-year period 1964-1971, Country Mutual has paid an automobile dividend every year since 1935—totaling about $52 million. The dividends to be paid in March bring Country Mutual's total dividends for all lines of insurance to nearly $100 million since the company was founded in 1925.

School Superintendent Candidates Forget Certificates

County Clerk Grace Mary Stern announced Friday, December 21, that two of the candidates seeking nomination for the post of Superintendent of Educational Service Region were missing one of the documents required for placement on the Primary Election ballot.

The State Election Code, according to Mrs. Stern, requires that each candidate submit with his nominating petitions "a certificate from the Superintendent of Public Instruction certifying that from the records of his office such candidate has the qualifications required" by the law.

Bill Thompson of Antioch, the Republican candidate, filed such a certificate with his petition. Neither of the two Democratic candidates seeking the nomination, Dr. James Capra of Waukegan and Dr. Carol Mardell of Highland Park, filed this certificate, according to the County Clerk.

Both Dr. Capra and Dr. Mardell were present in the Clerk's office at the time the oversight was announced. Both showed documents affirming that they do, indeed, meet the requirements for the office.

Mrs. Stern stated that she had spent several days "searching the statute, consulting the Secretary of State and in trying to ferret out the spirit as well as the letter of that piece of law." Her decision, she said, is to extend for thirty days the date on which this certificate can be received. This should give the candidates sufficient time to receive the official certification from the State Superintendent.

The Democratic County Clerk admitted that this decision opened her up to possible criticism, since both faulty petitions were filed by members of her own party.

"I am convinced, however, that the law wishes primarily to have those certificates filed," she said. "I am convinced, too, that the people of Lake County are entitled to have a choice for this (office), and that neither Republicans nor Democrats wish to see one candidate get a 'pass' because of an honest oversight," Mrs. Stern said.

She added that it was suggested to her, presumably by Secretary of State Michael Howlett, that, "Until shot down, this is the route to go."

"I was elected, I believe, to make sticky decisions like this one and I am prepared to accept what follows," Mrs. Stern concluded.

FEDERAL EXCISE TAX ON TELEPHONE BILLS DROPS

The federal excise tax rate on telephone bills will drop one percent on January 1, 1974, Illinois Bell reported.

The new tax rate, which is applied to both monthly service and long distance calls, will be eight percent.

Federal excise taxes came into being as an emergency, temporary measure about the time of World War I and have been on the books ever since. The tax rate reached a peak during World War II, and stayed at a high level for years thereafter.

In 1970, Congress passed the Excise, Estate and Gift Tax Adjustment Act which called for the gradual reduction of the tax. The first step in the reduction came in January 1973, when the rate dropped from 10 to 9 percent. Barring any further changes in the law, the tax is scheduled to decline one percent a year until its complete elimination in 1982.

SOPH WRESTLERS PLACE IN TOURNEY

Antioch's Sophomore wrestling team did not set a tournament record for the most team points scored, but did make a respectable showing in the always tough Antioch Invitational Christmas Tourney. Eight Sequoits earned place ribbons, for a team score of 55 points and a fifth place finish in the team standings. Though the Sequoits scored five more points and placed one more wrestler than last year's Antioch entry, this year's matmen were not able to match the 1972 third place finish. Coach Steve Wapen felt that, "The tournament gave valuable experience to our team. It showed us several areas that we must improve on if we hope to do well during the second half of the season. I believe that our inability to win the close matches hurt us. We lost to eventual tournament champions by 2 points or less in four different weight classes. The lessons we learned against strong competition in this tournament should be a valuable aid to us in the future."

Greg Nordstrom led the sequoit attack with a first place finish in the 119 pound weight class. Greg won impressive victories over wrestlers from Crown, Glenbrook North and West Aurora. Mike Walsh placed second at 138 pounds losing a tough 6-4 decision to Glenbrook North. John Davis placed third at 105 pounds losing a close 4-2 decision to the tourney champion. At 112 pounds, John Pocrnich placed third - with his loss also to the tourney champion from Glenbrook North by a close score of 3-1. Dave Bogaerts placed third at 145 pounds with his loss also to the tourney champion by a narrow margin of 2-1. Tom Ingoglia, Dick Kessler and Grant Jorgensen completed the Sequoit scoring with fourth place honors.

TEAM SCORING 1-Glenbrook North-82½; 2-Irving Crown-81½; 3-Aurora West-62; 4-Grant-61; 5-Antioch-55; 6-Highland Park-39½; 7-Warren-27; 8-Lake Forest-0.

SEQUOIT PLACE WINNERS
105 John Davis 3rd place; 112 John Pocrnich 3rd place; 119

Greg Nordstrom 1st place; 126 Tom Ingoglia 4th place; 138 Mike Walsh 2nd place; 145 Dave Bogaerts 3rd place; 167 Dick Kessler 4th place and HWT. Grant Jorgensen 4th place. The Sophomore Sequoits will put their 10-0 dual meet record on the line on Saturday (January 5, 1974) in a double-dual meet at Antioch against Glenbard South and Irving Crown beginning at 1:00 p.m.

SEQUOITS DUMP WAUCONDA

On Friday evening, the Antioch Sequoit cagers travelled to Wauconda in quest of their third straight conference game. The outcome never in doubt, the Sequoits moved to a sounding 69-47 victory over the Wauconda Bulldogs.

The first quarter was close as both teams hit a very good percentage from the field. With one minute left in the quarter, a short jumper by McGuire, another by Albano and at the buzzer a short jumper by Andrews, gave the Sequoit cagers an 18-14 lead and one they never relinquished the rest of the night.

The second quarter was all Antioch's, as the cagers took control of both boards and hit well from the field. There was very good balance scoring too, as each starter scored 4 points or more. The half ended with the Sequoits leading 39 to 26.

The second half continued to be all Antioch and in the last quarter several of the subs were able to play a great deal of the time.

The Wauconda team tried to use a special defense on Mark Andrews, but with Mark running the offense, the team responded to the challenge. Vic McGuire sparkled on offense with several outstanding moves. Mike Perrone and Russ Albano, two junior starters got in foul trouble, but showed still more improvement and did a good job both on the boards and scoring. Mike Gutowski helped steady the team and organize the offense - as well as play very well on defense.

Top scorers were Mark Andrews with 17 points and Vic McGuire with 16 points.

The top rebounders were Andrews with 12 and McGuire with 11 boards.

In another important department - assists - Andrews lead the way with 9, of which 7 were in the 1st half.

"The game was a good tune-up for the Rockford Tournament and I am sure the team will be up for the opening game," said Coach Andrews. "We have excellent scoring balance, strong rebounding and super team play, it's a pleasure to watch the team in action." "Each man when called upon to go in the game has done well too, this is really a team effort," added the Sequoits mentor.

The next game for the Sequoits will be in the Rockford Holiday Tournament on Wednesday evening - at 8:30 p.m. The Sequoit opponent will be Rockford Guilford - one of the pre-tournament favorites. "Don't underestimate the Sequoits - they are determined to do real well" stated Coach Andrews.

Happy New Year

RICK NELSON WRESTLES IN MIDLANDS TOURNEY AT NORTHWESTERN

Antioch's Rick Nelson, 167 pound senior and co-captain of the Western Illinois University wrestling team, is one of 10 grapplers from the school entered in the prestigious Midlands Tournament, December 21 and 22, at Northwestern University, Evanston.

Although Western's coach Pete Rodriguez is not entering his men as a team, such "big name" squads as top-ranked Michigan, Iowa State and Iowa will be battling for the title. The tourney is one of the biggest of its kind in the midwest.

"Primarily it will be an experience for our wrestlers against some of the top competition in the country," says Rodriguez.

Nelson has already compiled a 5 - 2 record this year, with a second place finish at the Illinois Invitational and a fifth at Iowa.

"Rick is just a step away from being on the same level as Kulpa and Woods," says assistant coach, Japanese national champion Mitsuo Nakai, referring to Western's two wrestlers who were first and second place finishers last year for the national College Division title.

7th GRADE CAGERS LOSE TO WAUCONDA

On Thursday, December 20, the 7th grade Apache cagers met the Wauconda 7th grade. Both teams used a man to man press, and as a result of good defense and poor shooting, it was a low scoring game. With 20 seconds left Wauconda was ahead by three points. Antioch scored a basket, then stole the ball. Antioch again had the ball with 10 seconds left, but failed to score. Final score was Wauconda 12 - Antioch 11. The Oddsden boy was high scorer with 6 points.

Antioch plays Diamond Lake at Antioch on December 27th at 5:00 p.m.
